Description of Fort Sumter.

Fort Sumter is a modern truncated pen tagonal fort, built upon an artificial island at the mouth of Charleston harbor, three and three-eighths miles from the city of Charleston. The Island has for its base a sand and mud bank, with a superstructure, if we may so term it, of the refuse chips LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS from several Northern granite quarries.—
These rocks are firmly embedded in the sand, and upon them the present fortification is reared. The island itself cost half a million of dollars, and was ten years in construction. The fortification cost another half a million dollars, and at the time of its occupancy by Major Anderson, was so nearly completed as to admit the introduction of its armament. The walls are of solid brick and concrete masonry, built to the edge of the water, and without a beam. They are sixty feet high, and from eight to twelve feet in thickness, and are pierced for three tiers of guns on the north, east, and west exterior sides. Its weakest point is on the south side, of which the masonry is not only weak-IMPORTERS & MANUFACTURERS, or than that of the other sides, but is not protected by any flank fire, which would sweep the wharf. Once landed, an en-trance may, at the present state of the con-Please Call & Examine the new Styles. struction, be easily made; for the blinds of the lower embrasures, though six inches in thickness, may yet be easily blown away, and even if this was impossible, scaling lad-ders can reach those of the second tier, which are not protected in this manner.— The work is designed for an armament of one hundred and forty pieces of ordnance of all calibres. Two tiers of the guns are under homb-proof casements, and the third or upper tier open, or, in military parlance, en barbette; the lower tier for forty-two paixlan guns; the second tier for eight and ten inch columbiads, for throwing solid or hollow shot, and the upper tier for mortars and twenty-four pound guns. The full armament of the fort, however, had not arrived when Major Anderson took possession; but since its occupancy by the present garrison no efforts have been spared to place the work in an efficient state of defence, by mounting all the available guns and placing them in salient points.

As before remarked, the full armament of the fort is not in position, as only seventy-five of the one hundred and forty gans required for it are now mounted. Eleven paixhan guns are among that number, nine of them commanding Fort Moultrie, which is within easy range, and the other two pointing towards Castle Pinkney, which is well out of range. Some of the columbiids, the most effective weapon for siege or defensive operations, are not mounted.— Four of the thirty-two pounder barbette gues are on pivot carriages, which gives them the entire range of the horizon, and others have a horizontal sweep of 180 degrees. In addition to these weightier pre-parations for defence, the walls are pierced everywhere for muskets, of which there are endless numbers ready and loaded. The magazine contains seven bundred barrels of gunpowder and an ample supply of shot powder and shells for one year's siege, and a large amount of miscellaneous artillery stores. The garrison is amply supplied with water from artificial wells, which are with water from artificial wells, which are supplied by the frequent showers of rain. In a defensive or strategical point of view, Fort Sunter radiates its fire through all the channels from the sea approach to Charleston, and has a full sweep of range in its rear or city side. The fort is sufficiently out of range from a land artillery attack, so that all apprehensious for breaching it from that source may be put at rest, unless by guns of superior calibre. The maximum range of the gans from Sunter is three miles; but for accurate firing sufficient water and the superior calibre. The maximum range of the gans from Sunter is three miles; but for accurate firing sufficient water absence in the call three miles; but for accurate firing sufficient. For sale by all Druggists and Dealers; or a box of the Conguents' (warranted to bive desired offect) will be both to any who desires it, by mail (direct) securely by guns of superior callibre. The maximum range of the guns from Sumter is three miles; but for accurate firing sufficient to hull a vessel the distance would require to be reduced one-half of that figure. war garrison of the fort is six hundred men, but only seventy-nine of that number are within its walls, with the laborers -- 100 all told.

The embrasures for musketry on the side of the work exposed to the fire of the bat teries of Cumming's Point and Fort John-son have been filled with solid flagging, filled in with lead, and are now ball and bomb proof, adding materially to the strength of the work. Inside, the magazine, and hospital have been protected by stone traverses, and the parade cleared.—New York Herald.

GREAT DISTRESS IN CHARLESTON .--- COTrespondents of both the New York Tribune and the Philadelphia Inquirer unite in des-cribing the present and prospective condi-tion of the Charlestoniads as deplorable in the extreme. The latter writer says:

I am sorry to inform you that distress arising from want of employment and the high price of provisions; is daily on the increase. There are now scores of families here who scarcely know where to look for the next meal. Meantime all kinds of produce and provisions are steadily increasing in price. Beef, of what is here considered decent quality, but which, in Philadelphia, would be accounted unfit for digestion, is twenty-five cents per pound, and other things equally expensive. Clothing and fancy goods are cheaper than usual, and for two very evident reasons. In the first place, scarcely mybody has money to invest in them; and secondly, the shopkeupers are compelled to dispose of them upon the proceeds of which to live. I see nothing but ruin staring these people in the face. It is a sad sight to see our southern brethren so blinded by passion, at having heen defeated in a presidential election; as to lose sight of all the material interests of their families and their state. They vill speedily be in the midst of a hundred difficulties—scarcity, want, war, diseases; and this year the last is not likely to be the least. Yellow fever, which always seems at home here, seems to be specially invited this year. Filth and stagnant water meet the view upon every vacant lot. The five or six bundred poor emigrants who have been deluded in the cities of New York and Bultimore, into enlisting in the southern army, will doubtless be amongst the first victims, unless they perish previously at the cannon's mouth.

DEPOPULATION OF TEXAS.—Theo. Hertz berg, formerly editor of a German paper in western Texas, has left for southern Mexico with his own and six other familes. The Brownsville Express says: The volume of migration is swelling daily, and travel where you will, you hardly meet a man who does not talk of moving, and unless there is an immediate return of good; established, republican, United States government, there will be an awful exodus from our land of flowers and, hitherto, of himny part of the country:

THE NEWS .- We have made arrangements with the telegraph company to furnish us with news from all quarters, the moment it arrives. In order to satisfy the public anxiety to learn the latest intelligence we shall publish extras whenever anything of importance is received.

Let Us Rally to the Defence of Our Country.

The traitors who have so long plotted the destruction of our government have commenced the war by attacking Fort Sumter. The administration has not been the agaction. They have been treated with every | to a suspension of specie payments. leniency possible under the circumstances. Instead of inducing them to return to the and the legislature will be kept here two or support of the common government, which has never treated them harshly, never tyrannized over them, never turned a deaf ear to any just demand, they have conspired against it, and now seek by war upon the nation to overwhelm it in ruin.

This is, then, the crisis of the fate of republican institutions in America, and throughout the world. All that we hold dear on earth is at stake. The blood of our revolutionary fathers was shed in vain, if we now falter in our determination to not down this rebellion. The importance of the occasion is greater than the revolution of 1776. If our fathers had failed then, liberty would not have been lost, but could have risen again; but now the temple of freedom has been reared, and if it falls, it will be a ruin not to be repaired for generations to come, and not without the shedding of rivers of blood and untold misery.

Let it be borne in mind, and sink deeply into every heart, that this is no occasion for entertaining any feelings of a party nature. All party is swallowed up in a patriotic desire to save the country and our democratic republican institutions. These have been attacked and every American must cherish only one thought, and that is the salvation of our native land, our consti tution and laws. Here is a common ground, here all parties can meet, and here we can testify to the world, that whatever differences of political opinion we may have entertained, we are now all republicans and all democrats.

A union of public sentiment is highly desirable. If expressed in unmistakeable terms-in tones not to be misunderstoodin the north and west-if we all unite as one man to the support of the government -it will have a powerful effect in shortening the struggle, perhaps even preventing it entirely. Who will dare to stand before the indignation of a thoroughly aroused and united public sentiment of the north, north-western and middle states of this Union? The traitors would quail before it, and their power to do harm would be much weakened before an effective blow had it unanimity and deep determination.

A public meeting has been called at the court room this evening, and we trust the people of our city will be there en masse. to help swell the rising tide of public scorn which is preparing to overwhelm all traitors their patrons now and then within the walls to their country.

The Duty of Supporting the Govern-

Forney, in a letter to his paper, dated Washington April 7th, urges the friends of Mr. Douglas to stand by the government in this crisis. He says the policy of permitting the border states to hold the government while the secessionists are cutting outits heart and mutilating its limbs, has been pursued long enough:

Behold the entertainment to which we are invited; and which the party leaders who dislocated the democracy at Charles ton and Baltimore are now gloating over as if it were a feast of the gods! We are asked to take part in, or to sanction by law, a government founded upon slavery alone —improvised by an aristocracy as haughty as any one the world has ever seen-torn away from the parent tree with murderous hands, as if to kill both trunk and branch -despised even by the nations that may be compelled to trade with it, and only capable of a temporary existence by shroudug the whole land with sorrow, and by converting the capital of the country into a Golgotha, "running red and hot with blood." In this emergency, I call upon all good men and true to take sides with the government in the perils before it and our whole people. If blood shall flow our Il not accuse us, and God will forgive us, because we are contending for a Union and a government better, and freer and happier, than any that has ever flourished since He created the world.

-Public Feeling .-- We have never seen public feeling so intense as it is at this time in the money market. on the war question. Our office was crowded last night till midnight, by people auxious to learn the war news. To-day the crowd is with us again, and everywhere the news is discussed. The universal sentiment is in favor of immediate and energetic measures to crush the rebellion.

FIENDISH.-The small box which was sent through the mail to Washington, and in New Orleans. which contained two poisonous snakes, was addressed to Mr. Lincoln. In emptying the bag, the box was broken and the snakes escaped and were killed. But for this, the box would have been taken to the president's residence, and perhaps accomplished its murderous purpose.

Sound Sentiments .- The articles which we copy from the Chicago Post, a Douglas democratic paper, will attract attention for their sound and patriotic sentiments.

Editorial Correspondence.

Madison, Monday Morning. On coming into town this morning I find the exciting and unwilcome news of the surrender of Fort Sumter. I suppose the people here feel about it as the people of Janesville feel, but my object is not to comment generally-merely to give you before the mail closes, for the afternoon's paper, the action of the legislature upon the mat-

Both houses rescinded the resolution to adjourn, and also rescinded resolution prohibiting the introduction of new business The Governor (who last evening received a telegraphic despatch from President Lincoln, informing him that a call would be made upon the States for volunteers, and that further despatches would be forwarded to-day) sent in a message to the Legislature asking for an amoudment of the bill placing men and money at the call of the President. #### The High School.

To the Board of Education :

The committee appointed to attend and report upon the examination of the respective classes at the high school of the city of Janesville, on the 10th and 11th of April, 1861, would respectfully report that they have attended such examination, and have witnessed with unmixed pleasure the exercises of the occasion.

The list of studies in which classes were examined, embrace arithmetic, physiology, elementary algebra, grammar, higher algebra, chemistry, physical geography, analysis of sentences, geometry and geography. The teachers under whose superintendence the examinations were had, were Mr. L. Cass, principal, and Miss Bacon and Miss Webster. In all of these branches the respective classes showed a great, and in some of them, a most remarkable proficiency. The committee are satisfied that the instruction has been very thorough, and that no particular effort had been made for the examination. The answers to miscellaneous questions put to the pupils by the committee and others, exhibited a very creditable familiarity on the part of the pupils with their studies.

Of the declamations and compositions. the committee would speak in terms of praise, and would encourage those who participate in these exercises to continue in The stars and stripes were pulled down and well directed effort, as the only sure means a white flag appeared on its walls. This of ultimate success. And the committee sign of truce was recognized by Beauregard would take this occasion to say that in their judgment the efforts of the teachers and board of education in the department of could have held out there! The terms of elocution should be warmly seconded by parents and pupils, as our high school is the place where a large majority of our young men finish their education. The edneated and eloquent man goes forth to battle with the world clad in a double armor.

Of the government of this school, the committee would speak in the highest commendation; and would say that the perfect order which is preserved, exhibits a remarkable power on the part of the teachers in this respect. There seemed to exist It is desirable, therefore, that an expres- feelings of perfect amity and mutual resion of the public voice be had upon this spect and love between teachers and pupils. matter, immediately, and that it carry with And we would further remark that so far as our observation extends, the natrons of this school have not paid that attention to it, by visiting and otherwise, which its im portance demands. We are sure the teach. ers would be pleased to see the faces of of the school room, on other occasions than those of public exhibitions and examinations, and we feel certain that, should they be permitted to do so, a mutual benefit to teacher, scholar and visitor would be the result.

And in conclusion, the committee would express their gratification in being able to report our high school in so good condition, and would exhort pupil, teacher and patron to suffer no relaxation of effort for an object at once so profitable and so noble.

THE WAR NEWS!

From the Chicago Post of Sunday Marning. We refer our readers to our telegrams They tell their own sad tale. Major Anderson and his brave command have been forced, partly by the shots of the rebels and partly by cusualties inside the fort to capitulate. We should have no beart to comment on this unexpected news, but for the belief that to do so will arouse a spirit among the true a faithful men of this land, that will avenge this great wrong done to the Union and to the civilized world. The people of the United States have never fuiled to chastise a foreign enemy who dured to insult their flag, and they will not permit this insult at the hands of rebels at home to go unpunished. And the government, we now believe, is prepared to act up to the expectations of the people.

We left, in the Post of yesterday, the beeigers and the beleaguered fort exchang ng shots. All night the firing was kept up it intervals. Fort Sumter suffered severe y through the night, some of its guns being lismounted, and portions of the walls weak ened. The heavy sea prevented the ships in the offing from getting near enough to engage in the fight. Yesterday it was probably too late to save the fort, even had the ships succeeded in engaging the batter-ies. Major Anderson saw that his position could not be maintained. His garrison was exhausted, and the fort itself was rap idly being battered down. But he did not ease the fire of his guns. Probably but or the explosion of two of his magazines by which means the fort was wrapped in flames of burning wood-work, he might have held out for several hours-perhaps long enough for relief, if not full succor from the ships. But towards evening the tide commenced to obb, and the ships were compelled to ride outside the bar. Gal ant Major Anderson was therefore still eft to combat single handed in a crumbing fort wrapped in sheets of flame and louds of smoke, against fearful odds. Fort Sumter contained no shells. With round shot Major Anderson was we'll supplied; but round shot played upon iron covered batteries were no match for both round shot and shells played upon and into breached fort and unroofed barracks. I'he most execution was done by the guns n Fort Moultrie. Shots were sent in quick succession, and told on the walls with fear ful effect. The rebels were aware of their advantage and watched anxionsly the flag to see it fall. But the federal flag still waved. The firing bowever, ceased from Fort Sumter, and Major Anderson occupied himself and men in putting out the not much damage was done-at all events, so say the despatches. The guns carried away, in the early part of the day, the chimneys from the officers' quarters in Fort Moultrie, and eleven shots penetrated the floating battery, but that is all. No lives were lost by the rebels. Again the ships made an effort to get up and engage the troops on Morris Island, but did not succeed.

The most thrilling part of the narrative is the account given of the burning of the Fort. The garrison suffered severely; and unprotected men who were lowered to the water on rafts to send up buckets, were the objects of merciless shots from the reb el's guns. In these circumstances what could Major Anderson do but surrender? One of his Aids was sent to the Fort. As he approached, up to its place again went the stars and stripes, capitulation were agreed upon, and Major Anderson surrendered. As the telegraph phrases it, this morning the flag of the conederate states—but as we would say, and as the world will say, of the rebels—floats over the shattered walls of Fort Sumter. But the end is not yet. There are men n the Union who will spill their blood for the Union—and their numbers will be found sufficient to maintain it. The battered walls of Fort Sumter shall be made whole -the flag of the United States shall once more he placed over them—and, as Heaven after rebellious Satan had been hurled headlong down her "bounds and crystal walls. was disburdened and rejoiced, and "soon repaired her mural breach," so will this so will this breach in the Union be repaired. And, to employ still further the sublime imagery

"____hell at last Yawning received them whole, and on them closed : Hell their fit labitation "____

-so will the rebels, for this their crime against nature and against man, partake Satan's punishment, eternal misery—in this world and the next. The God of our fathers has not thus forsaken us their children!

Special despatch to the Chicago Post.

WASHINGTON, April 13. Fort Sumter has been surrendered. The intelligence has created intense excitement The accounts of the final scenes of the battle, as reported by the telegraph are too frightful to be believed.

VIRGINIA WILL NOT SECREE. J. W. S.

Virginia Stands Firm.

The interview on yesterday between commissioners of the Virginia convention with President Lincoln ended satisfactorily. The commissioners demanded to know what policy had been fixed upon by the admin stration to be pursued toward the seceder states. This step it has been argued by doubting friends of the government implied that Virginia's loyalty had about evaporated-that if the administration had resolv ed on war, Virginia would certainly go out. But the more rational view of the move is that the Unionists in Virginia felt that the people of that state needed encouragement, and that they wanted to know that the government would stand firm. It is the opinion of our special telegraphic correspondent at Washington, who this morning is Mr. Sheahan, that the commissioners went away satisfied, and that Virginia will not For ourselves, we have been inclining to the opinion for several days that the only way to save the border states was for the evernment to strike a vigorous blow upon the head of treason. The Unionists all over the south will thus have something tangible to rally round. They will be assured that all is not lost; and that the government is able and determined to repair the breach in the Union. So let the people, for a while longer at least, have faith in Virginia and her sister border states. If even the fleshless bones of Gen. Jack on's hand had been two months ago up lifted in sight of the people at Washington, Fort Sumter would be this morning intact and the Union safe.—Chicago Post, Sunlay Morning.

HALIFAX, April 13. News of the hombardment caused proound sensition. The legislature passed esolutions that they heard with deep sor row and regret the war among their neighors, without expressing any opinion. They offered prayers for reconciliation.

COLUMBUS, April 14. Adjutant Gen. Carrington has just issued Aujumnt cen. Carrington has just issued an order carrying into effect the military laws just enacted by the general assembly of Ohio and providing for 6,000 regular militia, besides militia of reserve of not ess than 35,000 man to be subject to imme liate transfer into regular force.

The regular militia has been organized nto twenty five regiments, which upon war asis would make 25,000 men. On Saturday his office was througed by persons eagerly enquiring for the news, and offering their services, irrespective of party, to the support of the general government.

CHARLESTON, April 13. Third Dispatch,-Sumpter is uncondi tionally surrendered. The people are wild with joy. No Carolinians are hurt. Anderson and his men were conveyed to Mor ris Island under guard.

Anderson reached the city as the guest of Beauregard. The people sympathize with Anderson, but abhor those in the steamers who did not even attempt to reinforce. The wood work and officers' quarers are all burnt. No officers wounded. The fort was taken possession of last night Washington, April 13.

The reply of the President to the Virgin a commissioners repeats his purpose to nold a = d occupy property and places belonging to the government, and to collect imposts, but not use force except necessary for this object.

He said: "An unjustifiable assault has been made upon Sumter. I shall repress it if I can, and take places which have been seized. I shall, to the best of my ability repel force by force. If the war news prove true, I shall probably withdraw the mails from the seceded states. I consider the forts and other property in these states yea belong to the United States. I shall not attempt to collect duties by armed invasion. I don't mean to say, however, that I may not land forces to relieve Forts." He reaffirms the inaugural, except about mails. CHICAGO, April 14. Gov. Yates will issue a proclamation to morrow calling an extra session of the Legslature to meet at Springfield one weel from next Tuesday.

MADISON, Ind., April 14. A large and enthusiastic Union meeting was held last night, and a number of patriotic speeches were made, and the following resolution passed:

Resolved, That we will, with all means in our power, maintain the government of the United States. Several volunteer military companies are forming here. FORT KEARNEY, April 14.

The pony express passed at 1 p. m. J. A. McDougal is again elected Senator. He received 77 votes, all Republicans, and most of the Douglas men supported him. RICHMOND, April 14. Great demonstrations of joy during the night. The southern flag was hoisted on the capitol, but was subsequently removed by the guard. WASHINGTON, April 14. Arrangements were made to concentrate military at a certain point; the greatest anxiety prevails to hear further scuthern news.

It is rumored that should an attack be attempted on Fort Delaware, Md., the war department will take steps to prevent it.

Five officers of the navy who tendered heir resignations, were refused; the names will probably by stricken from the list. The National Volunteers passed resoluions denouncing the military operations of

PRESIDENT'S PROCLAMATION. WHEREAS, The laws of the United States are now and have been opposed in several states, by combinations too powerful to be suppressed in an ordinary way; I therefore call forth the militia of the several states of the Union, to the aggregate number of 75,000, to suppress said combinations, and execute the laws. I appeal to all loyal citizens to facilitate and aid this effort to was disregarded.

World's Washington correspondent maintain the laws and integrity of our national Union, and the perpetuity of a poplar government, and redress wrongs long enough endured.

The first service assigned the forces will he to repossess forts, places and property that have been seized from the Union. The utmost care should be taken consistent with this object. No devastation, destruction, or interference with the property of peaceable citizens in any part of the country will be allowed, and I hereby command persons composing such combinations to disperse within twenty days from date. I hereby convene both houses of Congress to meet on the 4th of July next, to determine upon measures that the public safety and interest demands. ABRAHAM LINCOLN, Pres't. By WM. H. SEWARD, Sec'v of State.

TO-DAYS REPORT. [Exclusively for the Daily Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, April 15. The news of surrender of Sumter created profound excitement. Newspaper offices last night were beseiged by thousands eager to hear the news.

The military spirit of the city is thoroughly aroused. The stars and stripes wave from all public buildings and many private ones. The people, to a man, will matter the administration.

sustain the administration.

A home guard will be immediately organized for the protection of the city.

Washington, April 14. The President has appointed Earle Bill narshal of the northern district of Ohio. Efforts are still making to concentrate ormidable military force in and around Washington, to be prepared for all emerrer cies. Information continues to be re Information continues to be revarious localities in Maryland and Virrinia having in view seizure of the public property and even the persons of the highest officers of the government. Though these accounts are not generally credited they are believed in official quarters. BALTIMORE, April 14.

The Union feeling here is strong. The minute men organization of 2,500 threw out the stars and stripes this morning from their head quarters, with the motto, Union and the Constitution." ALEXANDRIA, Va., Ap'l 14.

A meeting was held here to form a home guard. Resolutions to resist the northern aggression were passed. Several speakers advocated secession—others argued in favor of a convention to unite the border BALTIMORE, April 14.

The Union feeling in this city has been nmistakeably displayed since Friday. Men with cockades and secession emblems have been chased by crowds and protected by The barque Fanny Fanshaw hoisted a secession flag and the crowd compelled a boy ou the vessel to take it down. The captain afterwards rehoisted it, and it required a detachment of 30 police to protect it from the people. The indignation is intense. All the other vessels in port hoisted the American flag.

NEW YORK, April 14. Advices from Albany state that Gov Morgan will to morrow issue a call for 25, 000 men for the assistance of the federal government. A private letter from Gov. Cartin to a the Gov't, and expressing sympathy for seprominent citizen of New York, states that can have 10,000 Pennsylvanians in Washington in 48 hours if required.

PHILADELPHIA, 12 M., Ap'l 15.
There is still much excitement about the Palmetto Flag office. The whole square is blocked up with people. The mayor and police have possession of the building. A large American flag is suspended across the street. Some damage has been done to the interior of the office by the mob. It would have been entirely torn out but for the interference of the mayor.

Washington, April 15. Ten District of Columbia companies have thus far been mustered into service, 16 in all required. The number of federal troops hereabouts amounts to 500. An offer has been made to the treasury department at Montgomery to take the whole loan of the confederate states, $15,-000,000 at par, to parties in New Orleans. BOSTON, April 15. Political differences have been dropped, and the universal sentiment of city and state is to defend to the last the flag of our Union. Volunteers to the number of 20,-000 have already tendered their services at the Adjutant General's office. Gen'l B. F. Butler, a supporter of Breckinredge during the election, has tendered his services with his entire brigade. PHILADELPHIA, April 15.

The reported project to seize Fort Delaware causes much excitement. It is commanded by Capt. Porter of Virginia, who it is reported designs to resign if Virginia

Fort Mifflin in Pennsylvania is a dilapidated affair now in charge of Sergeant Brownly and one man. The naval maga-zine adjoining fort Mifflin is in charge of Mr. Butler a veteran of 60 years service. Volunteers are making preparations so as to be ready to respond instantly to the call of the governor or president. Two new regiments are forming to consist of 1,000 men each to arm which a por tion of the state appropriation will be re

Our volunteers never have been properly supplied with arms, and frequently new companies had to borrow guns to parade with from others better supplied.

Mayor Henry offers his services as colonel of a regiment if a call is made by the government. Washington, April 14. Senator Douglas called on the President to night. He had an interesting convention on the present condition of the country. The substance of it was on the part of Mr. Douglas, that while he was unalterably opposed to the administration in all its po ical issues, he was prepared to sustain the President in the exercise of all his constitutional functions to preserve the Union, maintain the Government and defend the Federal capital. Firm policy and prompt action were necessary. The Capital of our country is in danger, and must be protected at all harards, at any expense of money. He spoke of the present and future without reference to the past. Mr. Lincoln was very much gratified with the interview Official advices from Montgomery intimate that the Confederate Congress, on re assembling, will at once declare war against the United States. It is believed that in the act of declaration a distinction will be made between alien friends and alien enenies, the former including the border states, and such citizens of the North as oppose a coercive administration.

New York, April 15, The Times Washington correspondent ays the War Department is engaged in calculating the quota of troops in each State. New York will be entitled to ten regiments.

No detailed policy relating to closing south-era ports is yet settled, but arrangements are making to cut off all communication by sea. Scott is actively at work calculating the disposition of the forces. The administration has reliable information that the Confederate States propose, after reducing Sumter, to march on Washington with 20, 000 men. Several additional companies o regulars are ordered to Washington

The Express Washington despatch give a rumor that Gen. Scott has resigned, because his advice against reinforcing Sumter detachments of cavalry are stationed on all roads outside the city and two volunteer companies are in the capitol—one at the P. O. department and one at the patent of-

Two officers of New York regiments have tendered their commands. The present indications are that Sumter will be retaken at all hazards.

New York Herald's special despatch from Charleston says Anderson saluted his flag formed his command on parade ground and marched out on the wharf. The drum and fife playing Yankee Doodle. During the salute a pile of cartridges burst in one of the casements killing two and wounding four. One was buried in the fort with mil itary honors. The other will be buried by the Carolinians. The wounded will be taken to Charleston. The fort was burned to a mere shell. The guns on one side of the parapette are entirely dismounted and others split. The gun carriages knocked to splinters. Anderson is reported to have ordered not to sight the men but to silence the batteries. Sumter has been garrisoned by the Palmetto guards under command of Col. Ripley. Fire has again broke out in the ruins of the fort and the engines have been sent down. New York, April 15. The steamship Fulton arrived from Southampton, the 3d inst., this morning. Bread stuffs dull and quotations barely maintained The Markets.

IMPROVING. We notice with pleasure that Mr. Peter Myers is clearing away the dirt and rubbish on Milwankee street, accumulated while building his new block .-The plastering and finishing the inside of his building is being pushed forward with much energy, and will soon be ready for use.

The man who wished he had a throat a mile long, and a palate all the way, might envy the feats performed in the world of insignificance. Some insects are endowed with an appetite so keen, and a digestion so rapid, that they eat incessantly through out the whole of their lives. They begin as soon as they are born, and ent steadily on till they die. Their existence is a leas on the they ofe. Their existence without a change of plates, or a pause between the courses. Morning, noon and night their months are full, and an endless night their mouths are full, an procession of favorite food gratifies the unwearied palate. They know not the names of their meals. Breakfast commences with infancy, and their only after dinner nap is a passage to another state of existence.

New Time Table.—We call attention to the new time table of the Milwaukee and Mississippi railway. It is the best one for the convenience of Janesville that we have had for a long time, giving our citizens an opportunity to visit Milwaukee and return the same day; there are also two trains to Madison. This arrangement will be beneficial to the interests of the railroad, while it will be a great accommodation to the people of this city.

We understand that A. O. Perkins bas been appointed route agent on they LaCrosse railroad.

GOVERNMENT TROOPS.—A large crowd of people have brea waiting at the railroad depot in this city nearly all day, to see the U. S. troops from Fort Ridgley, Minnesota, who are expected to pass through this city, to-day, on their way to Washington. They number 220 infantry, under the command of Major Morris, and a company of sixty artillerymen, under Major Sherman, who distinguished himself at the battle of Palo Alto, and succeeded Major Ringgold, upon the death of the latter, in the command of this celebrated battery.

These troops have been expected all day, and when they arrive at the Minnesota Junction, we shall receive a despatch stating the fact, and will immediately issue an extra informing our citizens, so that they may have an opportunity to see these troops as they pass through.
